After a sensational success in over 15 countries, Singapore's very first batch of graduates recently graduated from KEVIN.MURPHY SESSION.SALON last Monday. Wade Blackford, Design Director for KEVIN.MURPHY, and Jessi Timm, the Gold Key Educator for KEVIN.MURPHY, were the hosts for the graduation ceremony.

SESSION.SALON is KEVIN.MURPHY's latest educational course. It teaches the stylists to turn their salon into a fashion show where their clients are the supermodels. SALON.STYLISTS learnt the key factors of becoming a super stylist and explored the parallel lines between the editorial world and the salon. Throughout the learning journey, stylists also come to develop in-depth knowledge, gain insights into the world of editorial styling, as well as learn how to translate runway looks for their clients.

Salons nominated one of their top hairdressers to participate in the four-step programme, which culminates with a fashion-show inspired graduation ceremony. Once again, congratulations to all graduates!
